Chubu Centrair International Airport Category:Airports in Japan Category:Transport in Aichi PrefectureUltimate Game Speed (UGS) is an Android (IOS) application designed to monitor & improve your player's ability to multi-tap and multi-tap correctly. The performance is improved by keeping track of the touch duration & frequency used for multi-taps and taps. This is accomplished through manual tagging and auto-tagging of your tapping. When a user hits "record" on the UI, the device saves how many times and how fast the user taps for the 24 hours. The user is then asked to rate the tapping on a scale of 1-10, being a "1" being best and a "10" being worst. The application stores the "average" of the user's weekly rating to keep track of improvement. The user can then compare his/her own results against other players to ensure they're on the same level. This app also features the ability to view the other players who have been active during the past week (to see if you're still improving and to see how others have been doing).
